

Ghost Girls Books author Karen Chilton

is pleased to announce the second annual Snug Harbor Press “Write Stuff” contest for young authors.

If you are an aspiring writer between the ages of 10 and 18, here is your chance to be recognized!

Send in your original fiction, poetry, or essays, and the Snug Harbor Press reading team will pass their selections along to me, Karen Chilton, for final judgment.

Any subject is fine – you know I like spooky stuff, but I like plenty of other topics, too. There’s only one requirement: your writing MUST contain at least one example of kindness. Just think about what kindness means to you and see what you can do with it. The example could be big or small. All that matters is that you show your reader that kindness counts.

When you are done writing, you can email your story to katherine@snugharborpress.com or snail-mail it to Snug Harbor Press Write Stuff Contest, P.O. Box 5696, Wakefield, RI 02880. Printed entries will not be returned, so be sure to keep a copy for yourself.

ALL ENTRIES MUST BE RECEIVED VIA EMAIL OR POSTMARKED BY SEPTEMBER 1, 2010.

Be sure to include the following information, so we know whose work we've received:

- Name
- Address
- Age
- Email address

If you are under 18, please be sure you have the permission of your parents or guardians to enter.

Enter as many pieces of writing as you'd like, then sit back and wait until December 1, 2010, when the winners will be announced.

Entries will be divided into categories on the basis of age: Category 1: ages 10-12, Category 2: ages 13-15, Category 3: ages 16-18.

Cool first, second and third prizes will be awarded in each category.
